Do Your Roadways Or Parking Areas Show Any Of These Signs?

- Visible damage such as cracks, splits or potholes
- Low spots, dips or ruts in the surface
- Exposed aggregate particles (surface is worn too thin)
- Crumbling shoulders, exposed sub-base or other erosion damage
- Broken curbs, ramps, parking stops or other signs of neglect
- A lapse of more than 3 years since the last maintenance check

“We were very satisfied and would highly recommend your organization.”
 — Jamaica Bay Board of Directors

Well-maintained roadways and parking areas don't just look great, they protect your real estate investment! Not only is asphalt pavement long-lasting, it is flexible, protecting the compacted layers that form the foundation of your roadways and parking areas. Asphalt resurfacing is a long-term structural solution, not a temporary cosmetic cover-up.

A WORD ABOUT SPRAY-ON SEALANT: IT MIGHT LOOK NICE (AT FIRST), BUT HERE'S THE CONCERN...

✘ In our experience, spray-on sealants can cause more problems than they're worth. As the rigid sealant layer expands and contracts in Florida's heat and frequent rain, it can tear the underlying asphalt and causes cracks and fissures, looking bad and costing more money to fix. The typical sealant schedule can end up costing DOUBLE that of properly resurfacing your asphalt.
